RSC Secondary and Further Education Group (SaFE) 4th National Chemistry Teachers and Educators Conference, "Transitions Post 16 and Moving On"

This was hosted at Birmingham University on Tuesday 3rd July 2018. Approximately 75 delegates including speakers and the committee attended this one day SaFE educators conference, and it was good to see several representatives from the RSC attend the day.

Comments

team are inspiring the secondary sector to consider the research side of teaching which really gave teachers something to think about. Niki also offered a workshop later in the day.

§Damian Riddle was the final speaker of the morning and presented about the reflections and outcomes from the new “A” level chemistry. The “A” level has had major changes going from the modular curriculum to a linear programme, and the practical work has a major emphasis through portfolio work. It is hoped that “A” level students will be more skilled with their practical work, they will be examined on practical work in written papers as well. This presentation was built on with a workshop session later in the day.

Lunch and networking was a valuable time, apart from palet5u urt223 pmiva to the teacher. A few methods of research were trialled and shared to delegates thinking.

Damian Riddle was discussing “reflections and outcomes from the new “A” level chemistry– specifications and assessment” where delegates considered the spread of results on the new course which generated interesting discussions with positive comments on the practical endorsement and discussions on the content and difficulty of exam questions. Possibly there will be disappearance of AS levels in the future.

Nicola Rogers(University of Warwick) and Zoe Schnepf (Birmingham University) shared Birmingham chemistry departments “Chem Bam – new online learning resources for students and teachers, engages students with current research themes in chemistry. Many teachers took the opportunity to find new electronic resources for their classes during this session.

Dr Peter Hoare was our plenary lecturer with his popular lecture colourful chemistry filled with many fun but spectacular demonstrations that teachers would be able to deliver in their own schools, see photos on our website. A nice way to round up a busy day.

Closing remarks

I announced that the next conference would be on Tuesday 2nd July 2019 at Bolton School in Manchester, watch this space for the 2019 news!

Some 2018 Conference feedback from delegates advertising through social media helped improve awareness of the event with RSC members but we still need to do more to reach out to others. Booking and registration were easier to use, as systems bed down and become familiar to people. We also took the opportunity to improve the links to the venue website, particularly with regard to directions. The venue was easy to get to, and the facilities good. Following feedback from last year, we extended networking time, and this was well received. There was also increased satisfaction with the afternoon breakout sessions.

The format we have adopted is well liked, and we look forward to a similar format in Bolton next year.
