

NAME

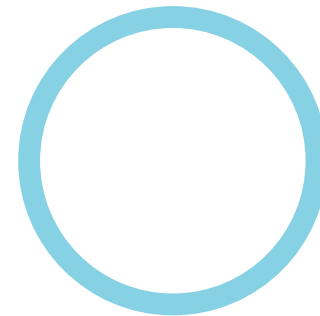

COLD FUSION

The first element made by colliding two nuclei in a low excitation energy cold fusion reaction was bohrium.

SHORT-LIVED

Bohrium's longest-lived isotope has a half-life of about a minute. It has no uses outside research.